SCHOLARSHIP FOR MOBILE APPLICATION DEVELOPMENT STUDENTS

Introduction

The volume of talent in the field of mobile development is increasing tremendously. In order to lend monetary support to such creative and skilled students, the All Star Plumbing introduces the best Mobile App Development Scholarship Program. All students above 18 years of age can apply for this scholarship and enroll in a part-time or full-time course in a reputed university or college in Australia, the UK, the USA, and Canada.

About

The mobile app development scholarship from Escondido Plumber is announced each year to boost creative thinking, promote entrepreneurial development, and provide mobile development aid to students already in the field and holding an incomparable potential. The submitted applications will be assessed on its value offered to the general public, ease of use, support to potential clients, and technological complexity. Only those students who submit genuine work and meet the eligibility criteria will be considered.

Benefits

This scholarship provides monetary support to students belonging to under-represented groups who are not able to complete their studies because of financial challenges.

Students applying for the scholarship have to provide us with completed apps that will be judged based on their novelty, creativity, and user experience.

This is a golden chance to learn specific skills from industry experts and head towards a successful career as a mobile developer.
